ABOUT THIS PUBLICATION

Kentucky State University (also referred to herein as “KSU,” “Kentucky State,” and “the University”) is responsible for providing and sustaining a safe and scholarly community of learning that is dedicated to nurturing student excellence inside and outside of the classroom. The Thorobred Creed identifies community values necessary to foster and maintain a safe and scholarly community, and the University has incorporated the spirit of these community values throughout all University policies and procedures.

From the time of admission through commencement, students accept the rights and responsibilities of membership in the University’s community. The University expects its students to uphold these community values by exercising a high standard of conduct at all times. Each student has a duty to become familiar with and honor these University values and standards as reflected in University policy.

Annually, the Division of Student Affairs publishes the K-Book to assist students with understanding their rights and responsibilities as students of the University; however, please note that this publication is an overview of University policies and is not a complete digest of all policies. In addition, some policies may be changed or updated following the annual publication date of the K-Book.

KENTUCKY STATE UNIVERSITY

MISSION AND VISION STATEMENT

Mission Statement

Kentucky State University is a public, comprehensive, historically Black land-grant university committed to advancing the Commonwealth of Kentucky, enhancing society, and impacting individuals by providing quality teaching with a foundation in liberal studies, scholarly research, and public service to enable productive lives within the diverse global economy.

Vision Statement

Kentucky State University prepares today's students as global citizens, lifelong learners, and problem solvers. To accomplish this, Kentucky State University must challenge itself and its students to be the best. It must recognize its strengths, and then expand and excel. Notwithstanding, it must also welcome change and quality improvement. By doing so, Kentucky State University will gain widespread recognition as one of the region's strongest universities. As a university of distinction, Kentucky State University will create an environment where:

- students are first;
- diversity is valued, understood, and respected;
- diverse, motivated, and talented students, staff, and faculty are actively recruited and retained;
- an intellectual environment conducive to leadership in teaching, research, and community service is encouraged and supported;
- effective teaching is promoted both inside and outside the classroom;
- students are taught how to obtain, evaluate, and use information;
- learning is lifelong;
- effective and efficient fiscal management by the administration is the norm;
- collegiality is the norm, not the exception;
- each person is a change agent; and
- excellence starts with the student

The Spirit of Community

At the core of our work is the notion of community. We all matter here as Thorobreds. We learn more when we collectively share our wisdom with one another. We have more fun when we celebrate with one another. We pick ourselves up from adversity faster when someone else lends a helping hand. We are better together.

The Xhosa tribe in South Africa acknowledges the importance of this framework with the word “ubuntu,” which is best summarized by the phrase “I am because we are, and we are because I am.” In his famed Letter from the Birmingham Jail, Dr. King captured the essence of this reality by writing these powerful ideas:

“In a real sense all life is inter-related. All [men and women] are caught in an inescapable network of mutuality, tied in a single garment of destiny. Whatever affects one directly, affects all indirectly. I can never be what I ought to be until you are what you ought to be, and you can never be what you ought to be until I am what I ought to be....

This interdependence strengthens us, emboldens us to tackle new challenges, and reminds us that helping others can benefit our own growth as well. Geese are smart enough to know that they travel faster when flying in a unified formation. They also rotate leaders and take care of one another when a fellow goose needs assistance. We can model ourselves after these principles and accomplish more together.”

It is with these very ideas in mind that we expect that all students will appreciate the importance of honoring this community in words and actions. Be yourself and be responsible for the collective good at the same time. Indeed, just as it only takes a single pull on a loose thread to begin the unraveling of a sweater, a single act that violates the code of conduct can tear away at the heart of our precious community. Conversely, every positive and affirming act serves to add another colorful and tightening stitch to the sweater that keeps us all protected and covered.

By joining this special community, you express a conscious and intentional willingness to support this community and represent the University in the best possible manner. Kentucky State will become a better place because of your presence and in turn, the University will be better positioned to offer life-changing opportunities to you and future Thorobreds.

UNIVERSITY HISTORICAL SKETCH

From its modest beginnings as a small normal school for the training of black teachers for the black schools of Kentucky, this University has grown and evolved to become the Commonwealth's unique, small, liberal studies institution, serving students without regard to their race, age, sex, national origin, or economic status. In addition to instruction, research, and public service are important, although secondary, emphases at the University.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky first chartered this institution in May 1886 as the State Normal School for Colored Persons, only the second state-supported institution of higher learning in Kentucky. During the euphoria of Frankfort's 1886 centennial celebration—a time when vivid recollections of the Civil War still existed—the city's 4,000 residents were keenly interested in having the new institution located in Frankfort. Toward that end, the city donated $1,500 (a considerable amount in 1886) and a site on a scenic bluff overlooking the town. This united display of community enthusiasm and commitment won the day. The new college was located in Frankfort in spite of competition from several other cities.

Recitation Hall (now Jackson Hall), the college's first building, was erected in 1887. The new school opened on October 11, 1887, with three teachers, fifty-five students, and John H. Jackson as President.

In 1890, the institution became a land-grant college, and the institution added the departments of Home Economics, Agriculture, and Mechanics to the school's curriculum. The school produced its first graduating class of five students in the spring of that year. The institution organized a high school in 1893. This expansion continued into the twentieth century in both name and program. In 1902, the institution changed its name to Kentucky Normal and Industrial Institute for Colored Persons. The Institution changed its name again in 1926 to Kentucky State Industrial College for Colored Persons. In the early 1930s, the high school was discontinued, and the institution was named the Kentucky State College for Negroes in 1938. The institution dropped the term "for Negroes" in 1952. The institution became a university in 1972, and the first graduate students enrolled in its School of Public Affairs in 1973.

Over the past twenty-five years, this University's enrollment and faculty have more than doubled, and twenty-nine new structures or major building expansions have enhanced its 511-acre campus that now also includes a 203-acre agricultural research farm. The year 1986 marked the University's centennial anniversary and its evolution over the previous century into a coeducational, liberal arts institution.

THE ALMA MATER

Harriet N. Gibbons, '45 Frederick Jarmon, '43

Hail to our Alma Mater, dear is Her name,
And there shall be no other to surpass Her fame.
Hers is the hand that guides us day after day,
And She will stand beside us, when we go on our way.

May blessings be upon Her, shepherd of youth;
She holds the seat of honor, in the hall of truth.
Mem'ries of Her shall never fade from our hearts,
And we will praise Her ever, for the love She imparts.

Sing ev'ry voice together, let echoes rise.
Hail to our Alma Mater, shout to the skies.
Holding the torch of wisdom, She leads the way
Clasping the hand of freedom, as She marches along.

KSU FIGHT SONG

Robert Townsend

In little Frankfort stands Mighty K.S.U.
With a will to fight, a will to win no matter what our foes may do. Rah! Rah! Rah!
Stand up and give a cheer for a Thorobred victory.
We still do our best when we're asked to stand the test and we'll win victoriously!
Go Thorobreds Go! Fight Thorobreds Fight!

Guiding Principles and Policies

All statements in this handbook (“K-Book”) are announcements of present policy only. The University reserves the right at any time to modify or revoke any of the policies and/or procedures contained in the K-Book. Accordingly, readers of the K-Book should inquire as to whether the University has made any such revisions, amendments, or changes.

The K-Book serves as a means of communicating to students their rights, responsibilities, and obligations as members of the campus community; however, it is not to be regarded as a contract or offer to contract. While the K-Book is a major source of information, it does not contain all policies a student needs to know. The University has incorporated by reference The Undergraduate Catalog, the Graduate Catalog, and other relevant official University publications. The University’s Colleges and Schools may have additional policies, professional standards, and expectations to which students in those programs must adhere; as such, students must consult with their respective College or School regarding specific policies unique to students within a particular program. Upon request, the K-Book is available in an alternative format.

KEY UNIVERSITY POLICIES

University policies are located on the University’s website. General campus policies and procedures may be located at on the University’s Policy and Procedure Library page, while policies and procedures relating to academics may be found in the Undergraduate or Graduate catalog on the web page for the Office of the Registrar. For your convenience, we have summarized key University policies below.

2. FERPA affords individuals the opportunity to amend their education record if it is inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of privacy or other rights of the student. The student may submit a written request for amendment to the Registrar's Office. The student should include the justification for the proposed amendment. The Registrar's Office is located in the Julian M. Carroll Academic Services Building, Room 323. Within 60 days of receipt of the written request, the University shall provide the student with a decision as to whether Kentucky State is granting or denying the request. If the University denies the request, the student may submit a written request for a hearing in order to challenge the content of the record. The Admission and Recruitment Committee will inform the student of the date, place, and time of the hearing. The student shall submit all requests for amendment and requests for hearing in writing to the Office of the Registrar.

Non-discrimination requires compliance with federal or state employment laws and regulations including, but not limited to, the following: Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, and Age Discrimination in Employment.

The University is committed to providing equal employment opportunities for all persons regardless of race, color, religion, sex, age (except for minors), marital status, national origin, citizenship status, disability, military service status, or any other status protected by law absent a bona fide occupational qualification.

The University has charged The Office of Human Resources with the University's compliance with Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Any person who wishes to file a complaint alleging discrimination or harassment should file the complaint in writing with the Office of Human Resources, Julian M. Carroll Academic Services Building, Room 241, (502) 597-6667, or the U.S. Department of Education, Office for Civil Rights, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC. 20202, 1-800-421-3481 (V), 1-800-877-8339 (TTY).

Veterans Policy Statement

The University does not discriminate against any individual based on the individual's status as a disabled veteran, a recently separated veteran (as defined by P.L. 107- 288), a veteran who served on active duty during a war or in a campaign or expedition for which a campaign badge has been authorized, or a veteran who participated in a US military operation for which an Armed Force Services Medal was awarded pursuant to EO 12985, with respect to employment, including recruitment, hiring, promotion, compensation, and any other condition or privilege of employment for which a veteran may be otherwise qualified.

The University has adopted this policy to ensure compliance with its obligation as a federal contractor under the Vietnam Era Veteran's Readjustment Assistance Act, specifically 38 USC Sec. 4212, and its implementing policies, 41 CFR 60-250. Campus Security Policy Statement

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (referred to as the Clery Act) is part of the Higher Education Opportunity Act. It requires institutions of higher education that receive federal financial aid to report specified crime statistics on college campuses and to provide other crime and safety information to members of the campus community. The purpose of the report is to give individuals in the University community the information they need for their personal safety and security while on campus. The Annual Security Information Report containing campus crime reporting procedures, policies, sexual harassment and sexual offense policies, crime statistics, and a list of victim advocates is available for viewing on the campus security webpage.

A hard copy version is available through the Office of Campus Security upon request. The Michael Minger Life Safety Act (referred to as the Minger Act) requires institutions of higher education in Kentucky to report crime statistics to current and prospective students and employees, to maintain a daily crime log, to report a fire or threat of fire to the State Fire Marshal immediately, and to issue special reports when there is an ongoing threat to the safety of students and employees. The University provides an annual report of campus safety policies, programs, and statistics to the Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education.

Hazing Policy Statement

The University is concerned about the emotional, psychological, and physical health and well-being of its students. Any form of hazing by individuals or groups is unacceptable and is in direct conflict with institutional values concerning the rights and dignity of students, all of whom have the right to belong to groups without risk of danger or humiliation. Consent to hazing is never a defense to a violation of this policy.

The laws of the Commonwealth require all Kentucky colleges and universities to adopt policy statements regarding hazing activities. This policy applies to the conduct of students, organizations, faculty and staff, as well as visitors and other licensees and guests on campus in accordance with KRS 164.375.

The intent of this statement is to set forth the University's position regarding hazing and to fulfill this statutory mandate. The University believes that new and existing members of groups and teams can expect to participate in enjoyable and educational activities that build teamwork and camaraderie among all members of the group. The University intends for these activities to create a sense of identity and commitment within a group and are generally acceptable and encouraged. However, students should never be subject to any form of hazing by either an individual or a group.

The University considers this policy incorporated by reference in the bylaws of all organizations operating on campus.

A person commits the offense of hazing if that person engages in hazing or solicits, encourages, directs, aids, or attempts to aid another in engaging in hazing. A person also commits the offense if that person intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly permits hazing to occur, or has firsthand knowledge of the planning of a specific hazing incident, or has firsthand knowledge that a specific hazing incident has occurred and knowingly fails to report said knowledge to the appropriate University officials.

An organization commits an offense of hazing if the organization condones or encourages hazing, or if the organization's officer, member, pledge, or alumni commits, condones, encourages, or assists in the commission of hazing.

The University adjudicates hazing allegations against students alleged to have committed conduct violations through the student conduct system as detailed in this K-Book. The University reserves the right to refer students for criminal prosecution. Students found in violation of this policy may face sanctions detailed in this handbook up to and including suspension, expulsion, or any other appropriate disciplinary action.

The University adjudicates hazing allegations against organizations alleged to have committed conduct violations based upon their form. The University will refer all Registered Student Organizations (RSO) (including, but not limited to, Greek-letter Organizations, Club Teams, etc.) to the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety .

The University adjudicates hazing allegations against staff and faculty in accordance with the University's Policy Manual and/or Faculty Handbook. Violations of this policy can result in disciplinary action up to, and including, termination. The University also reserves the right to refer staff and faculty for criminal prosecution.

As for visitors, other licensees, and guests on campus found in violation of this policy, the University may take action including, by not limited to, the rescission of permission to operate or remain on campus property. The University also reserves the right to refer visitors, other licensees, and guests for criminal prosecution.

Medical Amnesty Policy Statement

Individuals and student organizations are encouraged to seek the necessary medical attention for themselves and community members who have overconsumed alcohol or drugs. The medical amnesty policy allows for safe reporting of alcohol or drug abuse without fear of disciplinary and/or conduct sanctions in such situations. This policy allows University officials to practice discretion on a case-by-case basis to determine whether to grant amnesty from charges and sanctions issued by the various disciplinary authorities at the University.

Under medical amnesty, a student or student organization who seeks emergency assistance on behalf of himself or herself, another community member, or a friend regarding an alcohol or drug-related emergency shall not be subject to disciplinary action under the University conduct system. If a party with authorization over a particular dwelling proactively requests a "sweep" of their premises by a police or canine unit, then that organization will not face conduct charges.

Although students who qualify for medical amnesty are exempt from disciplinary charges and sanctions, they may still be responsible for completing educational measures in relation to their alcohol or drug consumption. Educational measures may include, but are not limited to:

- parental notification if under the age of 21;
- alcohol and drug education; or
- a written project.

Students who qualify for medical amnesty will still be required to meet with the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety .

The University will not apply this medical amnesty policy in situations where a University employee acting within the scope of their responsibilities makes the call for medical assistance. Additionally, law enforcement agencies may act within their own jurisdictions in enforcing local, state, and federal laws.

Title IX Policy Statement

The University prohibits all forms of sexual discrimination, including Sexual Misconduct. The University is committed to providing a safe learning, living, and working environment for all members of the University community. Consistent with this commitment, the University prohibits sexual assault, stalking, domestic violence, dating violence, and sexual exploitation. Complicity in the commission of any act prohibited by this Policy, or retaliating against someone for the good faith reporting or other participation in this Policy, is strictly prohibited. Additionally, the University is committed to raising awareness of issues relating to Sexual Misconduct and its prevention, providing training, and continuing education for students, faculty, and staff.

Employees or students who violate this regulation may face disciplinary action up to and including termination or expulsion. The University will take prompt and equitable action to prevent prohibited conduct, to discipline anyone who violates this policy, to stop further prohibited behavior, and to remedy the effect of any such conduct. The University conducts ongoing prevention, awareness, and training programs for employees and students to achieve the goals of this regulation.

Every member of the University community is responsible for fostering an environment free from prohibited conduct. All members of the campus community are encouraged to take reasonable and prudent actions to prevent or stop any acts of prohibited conduct. The University will support and assist community members who take such actions.

On-Campus Conduct: The Policy applies to conduct that occurs on campus, including conduct on property owned or controlled by the University.

Pet Policy Statement

The only pets permitted in University Housing are fish. Aquariums for the fish are limited to a ten-gallon capacity. Those violating this policy will be charged $150, will be required to immediately remove the pet, and may face judicial action. Additional charges for any required cleaning and/or pest extermination related to a pet violation will be charged to the student.

For assistance with emotional support or service animals, please contact the Disability Resource Center.

Again, this list is not exhaustive, and the University retains the right to add elements to it based on emerging issues and trends.

Student Business Statement

Any student who wishes to operate a business on campus must provide notice to the Director for Student Wellness and Safety and Vice Provost for Student Affairs in writing. Any such notice must describe the nature of the business and all necessary permits and other documentation. The University reserves the right to prohibit students from utilizing University resources (e.g., dormitories and campus facilities) if it is determined that the nature of a business does not comport with University policies and standards, or if a business is in conflict with the mission of the University or its vendors.

Social Media Statement

Students should understand that by mentioning Kentucky State University or sharing Kentucky State University information over social media, they are serving as representatives of the University.

University logos and wordmarks are for official University business and may not be used to promote non-University activities or imply endorsement. Members of student-run organizations are encouraged to obtain approval from University officials before using a University logo or wordmark to advertise an event.

While Kentucky State University values and protects free speech, disciplinary action may be taken if social media activity can be construed as a potential violation of the Student Code of Conduct—especially if such activity is harmful to students, faculty, or staff.

Section II

Student Conduct

The Thorobred Creed:

PREAMBLE

Since its humble beginnings in 1886 as a school for the education of African-American teachers, Kentucky State University has created a rich heritage of producing great leaders.

These leaders entered the halls of our University to learn and went out to serve our Commonwealth, our Nation, and our World.

It is with the recognition of our history and the belief that all members of this community have the ability to achieve eminence in every field of endeavor that we daily practice and uphold our ideals as stated here.

AS A TRUE THOROBRED

I will practice personal and academic integrity;

I will respect the dignity, rights, and property of all persons;

..

I will discourage bigotry and discrimination, while striving to be intentionally inclusive by learning from differences in people, ideas and opinions;

In thought, word, and deed, I will support excellence in the learning, growth, and development of others;

..

Allegiance to these ideals requires each Thorobred to refrain from and seek to prevent behaviors which threaten the freedom and respect every individual deserves.

..

Daily, I will practice responsibility, leadership, and service to my community, and I will be proactive in projecting the best image of myself and my campus.

Academic Conduct

This section of the K-Book provides descriptive information regarding some of the academic policies and procedures with which students should be familiar. Please note that the primary sources for academic information are the University's Undergraduate Catalog and Graduate Catalog.

Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity is a fundamental value of the University's community of students, faculty, and staff. We collectively wish to promote the highest and most honorable pursuit of intellectual achievement and understand the importance of manifesting integrity in all our efforts. It should therefore be clearly understood that students engaging in acts of academic dishonesty may be subject to sanctions. Any student who knowingly assists in any form of academic dishonesty may also be subject to sanctions. Academic dishonesty can occur in different forms, some of which include cheating, plagiarism, and forgery.

Academic Dishonesty

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the intentional or unintentional act of submitting the work of another as one's own. If the student has any uncertainty regarding plagiarism in the submission of any class material, he or she should discuss the matter with the instructor prior to submission of the material. Examples of plagiarism include:

- submission of the complete or partial work, or of the words, ideas, or format of another, published or unpublished, without appropriate reference and source credit
- employing or permitting another person to produce, alter, or revise material that the student submits as his or her own.

Cheating

Cheating is the fraudulent or deceptive taking, giving, or presenting of any information or material with the intent of aiding oneself or another on any academic work that is considered in the determination of a course grade. Cheating includes, but is not limited to:

- copying another student's homework;
- copying another student's answers to test questions;
- allowing or requesting someone else to do work on one's homework or tests;
- possession, or the attempt to gain possession of, tests prior to their administration;
- breaking or entering a locked or unoccupied office in an attempt to gain an unfair advantage;

- using a cell phone or other device to obtain materials from websites or other students during tests;
- using reference materials that have not been allowed by the instructor during tests;
- using handwritten or printed notes during a “closed book/closed notes” test;
- employing bribery, intimidation, or harassment in an attempt to gain an unfair advantage;
- purchasing or utilizing pre-made papers, projects, or other assignments;
- using a paper, project, or other assignment prepared by another individual;
- engaging another person to take a test (class-related or standardized, such as the GRE) on one’s behalf;
- knowingly allowing someone else to represent your work as his or her own;
- falsely attesting that work has been accomplished when it has not been;
- falsely attesting that functions or classes were attended that were not attended;

The University’s Academic Code of Conduct sets forth the procedures concerning the investigation and adjudication of any alleged academic misconduct. Students should familiarize themselves with the Policy, including what constitutes misconduct and the possible sanctions for misconduct. The Policy can be found here.

Behavioral Conduct

Kentucky State University anticipates that all students desire a safe and productive campus community everyone can enjoy. Therefore, the University expects students to conform to the Behavioral Code of Conduct and embody the principles outlined in the Thorobred Creed. When students violate University policies and fail to adhere to the Behavioral Code of Conduct, the University has established protocols for responding accordingly. Students are responsible for knowing University policies and what disciplinary procedures and sanctions they may face for violating the policies. Students also need to understand that a breach of University policy may subject them to criminal statutes and penalties.

Examples of Behavioral Misconduct

The following constitute violations of the Behavioral Code of Conduct:

Disruptive Behavior

Disruptive behavior is intentional conduct that disrupts the academic environment and interferes with the ability of faculty to teach or students to learn. Disruptive behavior includes, but is not limited to, “shouting down” a faculty member, student, staff member, or another speaker, and physically or verbally harassing an instructor, student, staff member, contractor, or visitor.

Harm to the Facilities That Support the Campus Environment

This type of misconduct occurs when a student purposely harms University facilities. This conduct includes, but is not limited to, damaging books, laboratory equipment, and computers.

Sabotage

Sabotage is the intentional act of preventing others from completing their work. Sabotage includes, but is not limited to, stealing materials from any University facility, removing pages from University-owned books, and inhibiting a student from completing or turning in work. Disruptive behavior and harm to University facilities constitute acts of sabotage.

Dangerous Behavior

Purposely, knowingly, or recklessly endangering or threatening to endanger the life, health, safety, or property of others, including, but not limited to, causing an object to fall from a building, refusing to follow University-mandated isolation/quarantine procedures, and physically abusing service/support animals.

Sexual Misconduct

Subjecting another person to any form of sexual harassment or abuse. Sexual misconduct can be committed physically and verbally, as well as through visual communications and social media. Offenses of this nature, and the procedures for resolving them, are outlined in the University’s Title IX Policy.

Harassment

Engaging in conduct intended to harass, intimidate, or unreasonably impair a person's ability to participate in, or fully benefit from, the campus environment.

Hazing

Any reckless or intentional act directed at another student that causes humiliation, embarrassment, or ridicule—or physical, mental, or emotional pain or discomfort—that is required or expected of new members of an organization, and which is not related to the mission of that organization. Hazing can occur on or off campus. It also includes any activity, whether presented as optional or required, that places any member in a position of servitude as a condition of membership or continued membership.

Weapons

It is a violation of University policy to possess a deadly weapon on any University property. Weapons include, but are not limited to, firearms, tasers/stun guns, pellet guns, BB guns, airsoft guns, paintball guns, explosives, fireworks, and other deadly weapons or replica weapons.

Such rules, regulations, and policies will be published, posted, or otherwise publicized in a fashion that allows students the opportunity to attain adequate knowledge of such information.

Violations of Law

Committing any act, whether on campus or off campus, that adversely impacts or interferes with the University's normal function, or which endangers the general welfare of the University community, and that also constitutes a violation of federal, state, and/or local laws or regulations.

The Behavioral Code of Conduct can be found here.

Section III

Student Organizations and Activities

Purpose

The University is committed to providing a vibrant campus life experience for students, which includes participation in student organizations that offer educational and leadership development opportunities. Student organizations represent the student body and the University. The success of student organizations depends largely upon how sincere students are in their commitment to work with fellow students, advisors, and the University's administration in planning, promoting, and holding well-organized activities.

Student Organization Requirements

Creation of Student Organizations

Application to Create a Student Organization

Enrolled students desiring to form a student organization must submit an application to the Office of Student Activities. The application must contain the following:

1. a minimum of five (5) students interested in participating, with the names and e-mail addresses of the students;
2. name and signature of a full-time University faculty member or staff member who has agreed to serve as the organization's advisor (see Student Organization Advisors on page 45 for additional information on advisors);
3. statement of the organization's purpose; and
4. the organization's constitution.

The Office of Student Activities reviews applications the third Wednesday of each month, and notification of the decision will be communicated to the submitting students no later than three (3) business days after review of the application.

Registration

All student-related clubs and organizations must be registered with the Office of Student Activities to have official University recognition. Each student organization is required to submit a registration form annually to the Office of Student Activities.

Orientation

The Office of Student Activities coordinates orientation for student organizations. Orientation is a required training and takes place during the Student Leadership Institute. Orientation sessions provide members of student organizations an overview of student organization expectations, available resources, pertinent dates and events, and the opportunity to ask desired questions.

Student organizations are required to have at least two (2) active members of their organization attend the orientation. At least one of these individuals must be a member of the organization's executive leadership (the equivalent of what would be considered the president, vice president, treasurer, or secretary). If the student organization cannot arrange appropriate attendance at the orientation due to extenuating circumstances, alternative arrangements can be made with the Office of Student Activities. In cases where an organization does not meet this requirement, that organization may be declared inactive and will forfeit any rights and privileges granted to student organizations.

Membership

Access to Membership

Membership in any Kentucky State University student organization is open to all full-time students enrolled in degree programs. Students that are cross-registered (and not fully enrolled at Kentucky State University) are not eligible to participate in student organizations.

Membership in any student organization includes only those written requirements set forth in that organization's constitution and by-laws, and those set forth by the Student Code of Conduct and University policies. If the organization has a national affiliation, its guidelines and policies must be adjusted to conform to the University's policies and procedures.

Auditions or tryouts are held by groups which require members to have certain skills or performing abilities. These auditions or tryouts are not intended as pledge activities. Organizations in this category are:

- athletic teams;
- bands;
- musical groups;
- cheerleaders;
- dance groups;
- debate societies;
- military organizations; and

- quiz bowl teams.

Other organizations wishing to hold auditions or try-outs must receive written permission from the department involved and the Office of Student Activities. At no time shall auditions or tryouts be conducted in a manner which causes injury or bodily harm to a student. Pledging of any kind is prohibited. Any organization found guilty of pledging, hazing, or any similar activity will face disciplinary sanctions.

General Membership Requirements

Most student organizations are open to any full-time student in good standing (cumulative 2.0 GPA for undergraduates; 3.0 for graduate students) who does not have any judicial sanctions or pending cases. Undergraduates holding officer positions must maintain a 2.5 cumulative GPA to remain in the position; graduate students holding officer positions must maintain a 3.0 cumulative GPA to remain in the position. The exception to this policy may occur in Greek-letter organizations and the Student Government Association.

Activities

Scheduling Activities

Any activity must be scheduled in accordance with University policies and procedures, and at a time and in such a manner that will not disrupt normal operations and other activities of the University. All activities held off-campus must have the approval of the Associate Director of Student Activities. Unbecoming conduct at an off-campus event will be treated as if the event were held on campus.

All event/program requests must be submitted to the Associate Director of Student Activities for all registered student organizations at least ten to fifteen (10 to 15) business days prior to the event date. A submitted event request is NOT a space request. Students must access the space request form on the KSU website. Reservations are granted in order of application.

Only registered student organizations are permitted to hold meetings and activities using campus facilities. All organizations' calendars of events must be approved by the Office of Student Activities at the beginning of each semester and on a monthly basis as events are added.

No student organization is permitted to host an activity or event during final examinations, during an official University-sponsored event (such as Commencement or new student orientation), or times when the University is closed due to inclement weather or other unforeseen circumstances.

Conduct at Activities and Meetings

Organizations are responsible for the conduct of those attending their activities or meetings. It is the responsibility of the organization to incur the cost of any security needed. Student Organizations that have engaged in alleged violations of University policies, or state and federal laws, will be placed on an immediate cease and desist of all organizational activities until the conclusion of the investigation and resolution of all allegations. Any organization found responsible for allegations may be placed on temporary probation or suspended for the misconduct of their guests.

Drug and Alcohol Policy and Amnesty

The possession, distribution, and/or use of drugs and/or alcohol is prohibited at all student organization activities. Student organizations failing to comply with this prohibition are subject to sanctions from the University.

However, the University will not pursue disciplinary action against a student or student organization if a party with authorization over a particular dwelling proactively requests a “sweep” of the premises. For additional information, see the University Medical Amnesty Policy on page 16 of this K-Book.

In addition to academic requirements for individual Greek-letter organization members, the organization, as a whole, must meet the following minimum requirements:

- The average GPA for each Greek-letter organization (Chapter GPA) must be 2.5 or higher each semester for chapters to remain in good standing with the University.
- Organizations failing to meet the 2.5 GPA requirement at the end of each semester (excluding summer) will be required to develop an academic improvement plan.

- Organizations failing to meet or exceed the 2.5 academic standard for two consecutive semesters (not including summer terms) are subject to sanctions from the Office of Student Activities.

Educational Programming – Greek Towers

To enhance the personal development of the campus community, all Greek-letter organizations must engage in the Greek Towers, which is a standard of distinction and accreditation program for the Greek Community at Kentucky State University. Greek Towers was created to help all organizations meet their particular needs by integrating their mission throughout programming and elevating each group to achieve excellence in five areas: scholarship, citizenship, leadership, brotherhood/sisterhood, and membership and accountability.

Organizations will select which programs best meet their particular needs by integrating their mission throughout the programming structure. Organizations may co-sponsor educational programs. Programs must have 75 percent of the organization's membership present to qualify. Topics that must be considered include:

Academic Integrity	Ethical Decision Making	Sexual Assault
Academic Success	Hazing	Study Skills
Alcohol Awareness	Healthy Relationships	Career Development
Communication	Leadership Development	Stress Management
Personal Responsibility	Personal Achievement	Time Management

Programs centered on student health must be co-sponsored with or have the approval of the Student Health Center and/or University Counseling Center, for liability purposes.

Community Service

Organizations should be committed to developing citizenship through service. Kentucky State University offers many opportunities for students to serve the local community. It is imperative that organizations strengthen the campus Greek community by supporting each other's service events. All organizations are required to demonstrate their commitment to service as follows:

1. All Greek-letter organizations will engage in a minimum of two community service projects per semester. Service projects must be coordinated through the University.
2. Each academic year (not counting summer terms), all organizations must cumulatively acquire an average of 12 service hours per member, with at least 75% of the membership actively volunteering.
3. Each organization will submit a report detailing their compliance with the community service requirement to the Office of Student Activities by the last day of each semester as listed on the academic calendar (not including summer term).

Campus Activities

Organizations should be committed to forming connections with other non-Greek-letter organizations and persons not part of the campus Greek community. Each organization will participate in/host at least two (2) all-campus activities each academic year (not counting summer terms). Organizations may co-sponsor events.

Risk Management

Greek-letter organizations must work with their national organizations to develop individual organization risk management policies. These policies will be submitted to the Office of Student Activities annually, along with other relevant insurance certificates.

Discipline and Sanctions

Student organizations that fail to meet any or all provisions of the K-Book or other University policies may be subject to sanctions by the Office of Student Activities.

Lines of Authority

The organizational president and advisor serve as official representatives of student organizations and must ensure that all University policies are followed. Members should channel any concerns through the organizational president and/or advisor of the organization. For student organizations failing to comply with University policies, the organizational president and advisor may be subject to disciplinary actions in addition to those imposed on the student organization.

Complaints Against Student Organizations

Any Kentucky State University faculty member, staff member, or student may initiate a complaint against a student organization for an action that might lead to a sanction pursuant to this policy or the Student Code of Conduct. The complaint must be filed with the Office of Student Activities.

Upon the implementation of any sanction by the Office of Student Activities, the sanctioned organization may appeal its sanction upon notice to the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety and/or the Vice Provost for Student Affairs forty-eight (48) hours after the Office of Student Activities has sent notice to the organization's representatives of its sanction.

When an organization's activities may be a threat to the health, safety, or welfare of the Kentucky State University campus community, all or some of its activities may be temporarily suspended immediately. This suspension may include, but is not limited to, all campus activities, University-sponsored events, or other activities of the organization. The Dean of Student Wellness and Safety and/or the Vice Provost for Student Affairs has the authority to order such suspension. No hearing or inquiry is necessary prior to said suspension. In addition, the Office of Student Activities will enforce any sanctions given to Greek-letter organizations by their national office.

Sanctions

The Office of Student Activities may impose sanctions, including, but not limited to the following:

Disciplinary Sanctions:

1. Censure: A warning that an organization's actions are unacceptable and that further infractions will result in more serious sanctions.
2. Restitution: An organization shall be required to make reparations for damages associated with the actions or entities involved.
3. Fines: An organization shall be required to make a monetary payment by a specified date. The amount will be up to $500, depending on the severity of the infraction.
4. Cease and Desist: Cease and desist is used as a temporary status for organizations that have pending conduct matters yet to be resolved or that are awaiting an appellate-level decision. While on cease and desist, chapters should cease normal activities and desist any congregating of membership or chapter function.
5. Administrative Probation: Probation is intended to provoke learning and positive change within an organization. Length of the probation will be determined by the Office of Student Activities.
6. Activities Suspension: An organization may be prohibited from participating in campus activities such as service activities, community-wide events, education programs, Homecoming, Spring Fest, and membership intake activities. The length of the suspension will be determined by the Office of Student Activities.

7. Social Suspension: An organization may be restricted or prohibited from sponsoring or participating in any social event. The length of the suspension will be determined by the Office of Student Activities.
8. Administrative Suspension: An organization may be temporarily restricted from any or all activities normally permitted to a student organization. The length of the suspension will be determined by the Office of Student Activities.
9. Administrative Expulsion: An organization will lose all rights as a student organization recognized by Kentucky State University. This sanction will be for an indefinite period of time.

Educational Sanctions:

1. Educational Workshop: An organization will be required to participate in a program of an educational nature. The exact form of the program will be determined by the Office of Student Activities.
2. Philanthropic Service: An organization shall be required to participate in a service project.

Section IV

Student Complaints

This policy applies to all students who file a complaint or request resolution to a concern:

1. that is not covered by another existing policy/procedure; or
2. when the application of an existing policy/procedure did not appropriately address the concern.

This policy also applies to University employees who are responsible for the resolution of a student complaint.

Title IX Policy

Kentucky State is committed to treating all students fairly and respectfully. Students should first attempt to resolve their concerns informally through collaboration and discussion. Students may resolve many issues by meeting with the concerned parties and/or scheduling an appointment to meet with a faculty or staff member and discussing the concern in a clear, honest, and respectful way. Some issues, however, may require resolution through an existing, prescribed process. Not every written inquiry or concern from a student constitutes a formal written student complaint. Formal written student complaints typically involve requests for resolution after the University has denied a student an action or service and after the student has exhausted any existing procedures to resolve the concern. If a student's concern cannot be resolved informally, or through an existing process, then the student may file a formal complaint through the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety.

Note: It is not the intention of the University to use the formal written student complaint process as an appeal for a prior decision. If the University has resolved the student's concern through an existing process that was properly administered and fundamentally fair, the University will generally deem that student's complaint resolved.

Submitting a formal written student complaint:

Step 1. Students may submit their formal written complaint in one of two ways:

1. Submit a formal written complaint by sending an e-mail to the Office of the Student Conduct Officer; or
2. Mail or deliver a formal written student complaint to the Office of the Student Conduct Officer

The following information must be included for the submission to be considered a formal written complaint:

1. student's first and last name;
2. student's KSU ID Number;
3. student's KSU email address;
4. specific information about the complaint, including dates, persons, and other pertinent information related to the complaint;
5. steps the student has taken to resolve the complaint; and
6. an explanation of what the student would consider to be a satisfactory resolution to the complaint. If submitted in writing, the student's signature must be included in the complaint. Anonymous complaints are not accepted.

Step 2. Upon receipt of a written student complaint, the Dean of Wellness and Health will contact the student via e-mail to confirm receipt of the complaint. If the complaint is incomplete or lacking sufficient information, the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety will notify the student. The Dean of Student Wellness and Safety shall also specifically state what additional information is needed before the complaint is considered a formal written complaint. If there is another resolution process prescribed by existing policy, and it is clear the student has failed to follow that process first, the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety will notify the student that he or she will not accept the formal written complaint until the student attempts the other resolution process first.

Step 3. If the written complaint contains sufficient information, and the student has exhausted the existing procedures to resolve the complaint (if applicable), then the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety will record the complaint in the complaint tracking log and forward the complaint to the office responsible for resolution. Responsible offices are as follows:

- Undergraduate and Graduate Academic Affairs Complaints: Registrar
- Employee and Employment Matters: Director, Human Resources
- University Facilities, Property, and Auxiliary Service Complaints: EVP, Finance & Administration
- Student Affairs Complaints: VP, Student Affairs or Dean of Student Wellness and Safety
- Other Complaints: Appropriate office directly reporting to the University President.

NOTE: The Dean of Student Wellness and Safety is not an advocate for any party to a dispute. The Dean of Student Wellness and Safety is an advocate for a fair process. In most cases, the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety will refer the matter to another office for resolution. The University has designed this process to ensure that the appropriate official considers the complaint and provides an impartial review.

Step 4. Within five (5) business days of receiving a formal written complaint from the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety, the responsible official shall:

1. provide the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety with the name and office of the person primarily responsible for resolving the complaint; and
2. notify the student of the office responsible for resolving the complaint.

Step 5. Within thirty (30) calendar days of receiving a formal written student complaint from the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety, the responsible office shall notify the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety , in writing, about the resolution of the complaint.

The notification shall include:

1. the status of the resolution (open, closed-resolved, close-not resolved);
2. the date the complaint was closed (if applicable);
3. a brief description of the resolution (if resolved) or reason/status (if not resolved);
and
4. how the student was notified of the resolution (if applicable).

If the case remains open, the responsible office shall provide an update to the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety every thirty (30) calendar days. If a complaint remains open for more than sixty (60) calendar days, the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety shall notify the University President.

The responsible office shall maintain a record of the complaint and its disposition for three (3) years after resolution in accordance with the Model University Records Retention Schedule. The Dean of Student Wellness and Safety, however, shall be responsible for maintaining the complaint tracking log documenting the three (3) prior years of formal written complaints.

Once the student has exhausted all options for the resolution of a complaint with Kentucky State, the student has the right to file a complaint with the Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education at http://cpe.ky.gov/campuses/consumer_complaint.html or the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges at www.sacscoc.org.

Section V

Behavioral Intervention Team (BIT)

Purpose

Our fundamental priority is the safety and well-being of all students. In cases when student behavioral issues create concern for the safety and well-being of the campus community, the Behavioral Intervention Team (BIT) at Kentucky State University exists to offer additional support, guidance, and resolution of matters. Included in, but not limited to, the list of behavioral concerns are threats, aberrant behavior, violent or perceived violent behavior, expressed suicidal ideation, or violence against others.

The BIT does not preempt any other University office in performing its duties in enforcing the law or managing situations. In addition, the BIT shall be responsible for developing and reviewing University policies that address such situations and behavior. The BIT will also educate faculty and staff members regarding students of concern and the referral process. For more information about the BIT to report a person of concern, please contact the Vice Provost for Student Affairs. In case of emergency, please call University Dispatch at 502-597-6878.

Mandated Assessment Policy

The University is concerned for every student on our campus and for our entire campus community. In an effort to serve our community more effectively, the BIT put in place the following guidelines to help reach students who may be in need of support but who are unwilling or unable to take advantage of these services.

Mandated Assessment Definition

A mandated assessment is an opportunity for the University to determine if a student is in need of help or support. The assessment starts with an individual meeting with a designated staff member in the University Counseling Center. Following this initial meeting, the designated counselor may determine whether additional services are necessary. These services may include, but are not limited to, referral to an outside agency for additional evaluation, additional sessions with the University Counseling Center counselor, or referral to an outside agent for additional assessment.

BIT Review Process

Referrals

Any University employee or student may recommend a student to BIT for a possible mandated assessment. Reports also may come from parents or others concerned about a student. Once the BIT determines that a mandated assessment is necessary, the process is set into motion.

More information about referring a student to BIT can be found in the Office of the Vice Provost for Student Affairs or the Office of the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety.

Decision-Making

The decision of whether to require a student to undergo a mandated assessment is made by the BIT after careful consideration of the information provided in the referral and a determination of the best course of action.

Behaviors that may lead to a mandated assessment include, but are not limited to:

- threat to self;
- threat to others;
- self-destructive behaviors; and/or
- concern that the student may not be able to function in or remain in the academic community

Confidentiality

The mandated assessment with the designated counselor is confidential. However, the student will be required to sign a release of information so that the designated counselor can communicate with BIT to help make recommendations for further action. In some cases, additional releases may be required to obtain all relevant information. No one else will have access to any information without written permission from the student assessed. The University Counseling Center shall maintain, in accordance with law, a file containing the full assessment. The summary of the assessment will be part of the student's file that is maintained by the Office of the Vice Provost for Student Affairs and the Dean of Student Wellness and Safety.

Mandated Assessment Procedures

University Counseling Center Assessment

Once the BIT determines that the student needs a mandated assessment, a BIT representative shall contact the student to schedule an appointment with the University Counseling Center. The appointment will take place as soon as possible. The University Counseling Center shall ask the student to provide information required to complete the mandated assessment. Additionally, the University Counseling Center shall sign a release allowing the University Counseling Center to share a summary of the student's assessment with the BIT as part of the Mandated Assessment process.

Outside Arrangements

A student, however, may choose to have a similar assessment completed by a mental health professional not employed by the University. The following properly credentialed and/or licensed mental health professionals are permissible:

- licensed professional counselor;
- national board-certified counselor;
- licensed psychologist;
- health services provider of psychology; and
- board-certified psychologist.

The student will be responsible for the cost of this outside assessment and must sign a release allowing the University Counseling Center staff and BIT to communicate with the outside professional conducting the assessment.

Review and Final Decision

Following a mandated assessment by a University counselor, the counselor provides a summary to the BIT for review. In situations where an outside professional has conducted the mandated assessment, a member of the University Counseling Center staff will review the outside professional's assessment and send a summary of the assessment to the BIT.

Once in receipt of the mandated assessment summary, the BIT will make the decision as to what actions are necessary for the campus community. The BIT may determine:

- no further action required (student continues enrollment at the University);
- referral to an outside Psychiatrist for additional evaluation;
- additional sessions with a University Counseling Center counselor;
- referral to outside agency for additional assessment; or

- the invocation of the Involuntary Withdrawal Policy

Appeals

A student may appeal the final decision of BIT to the Vice Provost for Student Affairs. The appeal will follow the same guidelines outlined on pages 34–35 of this K-Book.

Refusal to Comply with a Mandated Assessment

If a student refuses to participate in the mandated assessment, the BIT will begin the Involuntary Withdrawal process. A mandated assessment will only be one part of the overall picture of the student and will not be the sole determining factor for action taken regarding the student.

Involuntary Withdrawal

The University is committed to the health and safety of all its community members. Therefore, a student may be involuntarily withdrawn from the University if it is determined that the student presents a danger to others or is unable to function at the University. The University will only make a decision for involuntary withdrawal after less drastic measures have been considered and rejected as inappropriate or insufficient under the circumstances. Prior to any involuntary withdrawal, a student will be encouraged to withdraw voluntarily. BIT decisions for involuntary withdrawal will follow the appeals process and procedures established on pages 34-35 of this handbook.

This policy does not take the place of disciplinary action for a student's violations of University policy. Invocation of this policy occurs only in extraordinary circumstances in which it is determined that other policies are inadequate or inappropriate.

Drug and Alcohol Amnesty

The University will not pursue disciplinary action for improper use of alcohol or other drugs against parties reporting behavioral concerns regarding themselves or other individuals. However, the University may refer the student to counseling services. For additional information, see the University Medical Amnesty Policy on page 16 of this handbook.

Section VI

Campus Resources and Services

Student Health Services

The University's Student Health Services staff provides quality, free-of-charge healthcare to students. To further engage students, the Center manages the Innovation and Creativity Lounge on campus to deliver a unique environment for students to express themselves and identify meaningful solutions to life challenges.

Disability Resource Center

The mission of the Disability Resource Services is to facilitate equal access to the University's campus, programs, activities, and services, in accordance with federal and state policies and University policies. The Student Success Center (SSC) is designed to inspire and support students in their pursuits to identify and achieve personal, educational, and career-related goals. Academic advising is a form of one-on-one teaching and mentoring. The SSC works as a team to ensure student success. The SSC assigns each student an Academic Advisor, a Success Coach, and a Faculty Mentor. The SSC team aims to get to know each student individually and the SSC team supports each student in various ways. Students are likewise encouraged to play an active part in the advising relationship and seek their advising team's help to:

Upward Bound

Upward Bound is a federally funded TRIO program that provides support to participants whose goals are to receive a college degree. It is comprised of both a rigorous academic year and summer component. Students must be low-income and/or first-generation. The program also accepts ninth graders at risk for academic failure.

Our mission is to motivate, assist, and promote qualified high school students to pursue a four-year college degree by building their academic skills and social development through exposure to a variety of career, cultural, academic, and social experiences.

The program currently serves the following three high schools in Frankfort, Kentucky:

- Western Hills

In earlier sections, information about various opportunities within the Office of Student Activities was provided. However, the Office of Student Activities also delivers a wide range of exciting programs throughout the year for the entire campus community to ensure that students experience co-curricular educational development and enjoyable times as a Thorobred. A monthly calendar of events is provided so that students are familiar with all of the ways to be involved on campus.

Our intramural sports program is facilitated through this Office as well. In addition, "The Spot" (formerly the Game Room) offers a relaxed environment for students to congregate, watch TV, and play pool, cards, and video games; regular competitions and special events occur in this space as well. Some of the highlights each year sponsored by the Office of Student Activities are Homecoming (including the Fashion Show, Comedy Show, and Concert), Spring Fest, Royal Court Pageants, and Winter Fest.

Housing and Residence Life

The Office of Housing and Residence Life ensures that students have access to a safe and enriching residence life experience to enhance the quality of their educational journey.
